

CHRISTOPHER DECRESCE
Partner, Paul Hastings LLP

Chris DeCresce is a partner and Global Co-Chair of the Securities and Capital Markets practice at Paul Hastings LLP. His practice focuses on securities and capital markets, mergers, acquisitions, and joint ventures, governance, securities law reporting, and compliance. He has significant experience representing issuers in capital market transactions, including public and private offerings and mergers and acquisitions, focusing on clients in the financial services industry.

Prior to returning to private practice, Mr. DeCresce was a Managing Director of the Investment Banking Group at Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P., a leading middle-market investment bank in financial services (now Piper Sandler & Co). At Sandler O'Neill, his primary duties involved working as a senior member of the investment banking group on complex capital raising (equity and debt) transactions merger and acquisition transactions with an aggregate deal value of approximately $15 billion.

Before joining Sandler O'Neill, Mr. DeCresce was an associate at an international law firm in New York and London. While in college and law school, he served as a Sergeant in the New York City Police Department.

